Visit to the André Malraux Museum of Modern Art

Duration: 3h · Type: Classic

Departure by coach for the discovery of the André Malraux Museum of Modern Art in Le Havre. Inaugurated in 1961 by the sea, and better known as MuMa, this museum is a true manifesto of architecture oriented towards space and light. Fully open to the horizon thanks to its large glass windows, it captivates with its modern lines and bold design, creating a constant dialogue between the sea, the sky and the exhibited artworks. The museum houses one of the richest Impressionist collections in France, as well as a remarkable selection of Fauvist and modern works, offering insight into nearly five centuries of artistic creation. As you move through the galleries, you will follow in the footsteps of great artists closely linked to the city and to Normandy, such as Claude Monet, Raoul Dufy, Othon Friesz and Georges Braque. This immersive and light-filled visit will allow you to discover the evolution of modern painting in an exceptional setting, where art and natural light interact harmoniously. A wonderful cultural interlude in the heart of one of Le Havre's most emblematic museums.
