Discover the folk arts and traditions of Normandy

Duration: 2h30 · Type: Classic

Departure on foot for a visit to the Museum of Ethnography and Folk Art of Honfleur. Let yourself be guided through this museum for a true immersion in the heart of Norman traditions, inviting you on an authentic journey into everyday life of the past. The first ethnographic museum in the provinces, founded in 1896 by the Société du Vieux-Honfleur, it passionately recounts local history and customs through a rich collection of objects and testimonies from bygone days. During the visit, you will discover nine rooms furnished according to their original function: a cooper's workshop, a room dedicated to traditional headdresses and costumes, a bourgeois interior, as well as spaces devoted to old trades. Each room will immerse you in the atmosphere of old Normandy and highlight the region's craftsmanship and ways of life. This lively and charming visit will allow you to appreciate both the richness of the collections on display and the remarkable architecture of this emblematic site in Honfleur.
