POTSDAM AND THE SANSSOUCI GARDENS

Panoramic tour of Potsdam and visit of the Sanssouci Gardens

Duration: 4h · Type: Classic

We'll leave by coach with local guides who will help you discover the history of Former Prussia and its illustrious monarchs. In Potsdam, the visit will begin with a walk through the gardens at the Sanssouci Palace. You'll walk the flower-lined pathways and staircases leading through the terraced garden to the residence of Frederick the Great, built between 1745 and 1747. The personal tastes of the king had such an influence on the design and the decoration of the palace that its style is often referred to as "Frederician Rococo". Then, you will take a tour around the Sans Souci park by coach to admire its many and astonishing buildings.
We'll head back to downtown Potsdam for some free time in the Dutch district.

PLEASE NOTE

- Good walking shoes are recommended: walk in the Sanssouci gardens with stairs to climb.
- The boat is sailing during the excursion (only in the Amsterdam-Berlin cruise).
- Beware! We'll only visit the gardens of the Sanssouci palace, with no further visit inside the palace.
- The order of the visits can change.
- Times are approximate.
